

AT WORK BURYING TWENTY-NINE DEAD

Fourteen Injured Will Recover.

FATE OF PASSENGERS ON A BRIDGEPORT TROLLEY CAR.

List of Casualties in Sunday's Accident Has Not Been Added to—Interment of the Victims Began Today—Crowded Car Drops From a High Trestle Into a Deep Ravine—New Line to the Connecticut City the Scenic of the Disaster—The Death List.

Bridgeport, Conn., Aug. 7.—[Special]—The list of casualties in Sunday's trolley car accident has not been added to. It is believed that all of the fourteen injured will recover.

Work of burying the twenty-nine dead began today.

Bridgeport, Conn., Aug. 7.—A trolley car containing upward of forty persons, bound for Shelton, went over a trestle fifty feet high at Peck's Mill stream, about five miles from this city, at 3:13 o'clock Sunday afternoon, and at 9 o'clock at night thirty-six dead bodies had been taken from the ravine. It is not known how many escaped, but it is probable that very few got away with their lives. The dead so far identified are as follows: Joseph Hotchkiss, Bridgeport, former marshal of the fire department; Henry C. Cogswell, Bridgeport, aged 60, general freight agent Berkshire division of New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad, member of board of education; Orlando B. Wells, aged 63, shoemaker; Elias E. Bradley, selectman, Milford; Mrs. Elias E. Bradley; William Osborne, Stratford; Daniel Galvin, Ansonia; John Carroll, conductor, Bridgeport; S. Banks, Shelton; Mrs. McDonald, Bridgeport; Winton Lanthier, motorman, Bridgeport Traction company; Bessie Toomey, aged 22, Bridgeport; William H. Harvey, aged 37, Bridgeport; Mrs. J. H. Rugg, Stratford; Mrs. Frank Blew, Stratford; Blew, aged 3, son of above; Blew, aged 5, daughter of Mrs. Blew; William McCullough, Stratford; Mrs. Arthur Holmes, Bridgeport; Thomas McNally, aged 30, Bridgeport (identification not positive); Peter Ring, aged 28, Bridgeport; Patrick McDermott, aged 50, Bridgeport; Frank Kraft, aged 25, Bridgeport; Alfred Pitt, aged 22, Bridgeport; William Cotter, aged 25, Bridgeport (identification not positive); Irving Dornes, aged 23, Bridgeport; Mrs. William H. Harvey, Bridgeport; John Galvin, aged 22, Ansonia.

Among the seriously injured at the Bridgeport hospital are: Margaret Brennan, scalp wound; Mrs. Sidney A. Hitt, Bridgeport, right leg fractured twice; Margaret Farrell, right leg amputated above knee; probably died; George Hamilton, scalp wound, injury to leg; Mrs. Frank Kraft, Bridgeport, injuries about head and back; Arthur Holmes, Bridgeport, contusion about the body, left leg crushed; Fred Hillerous, scalp wound, bruised about the body; Matthew Olvin, scalp wound, cut and bruised generally; William Kelly, Bridgeport, sprained arm; Mabel Rulane, aged 5, arm broken; Charles Delaney, New York, stock broker; injured internally.

The accident occurred at what is known as Peck's Mill stream. Over this stream is built an iron bridge 550 feet long. The distance from the top of the structure to the bed of the stream is fifty feet. All of the water had been drawn off a few months ago to permit the buttresses for the bridge to be laid.

The bridge runs north and south on a straight line. It has but one track, but the construction is of the regular steam traffic kind. Below the bridge is a yawning chasm, filled with rocks and marshy swamp. About fifty feet east of the structure there is a steep bank which inclines at an angle of about forty-five degrees, so that directly beneath the bridge the bottom of the bank begins. All about are trees and bushes. It was into this gully that car No. 2 of the Milford street railway line, which had been utilized on the Shelton line for the day, plunged with its cargo of human freight.

The car was an ordinary single-track open affair, with running boards on either side. Some say that there were as many as fifty on the car, others placing the number at forty-two. The officials of the road do not know, and as Motorman George Hamilton is frightfully injured, and the conductor, John Carroll is among the dead, it is impossible to tell the exact number.

The car left Bridgeport about 2:45 p. m., with a merry party of young and old, who were among the thousands that desired to enjoy a ride over the new line. Passing through Stratford, the young folks began to sing, and it was with a merry peal of laughter from many throats that they were sent to the ravine below.

The alarm was quickly given and hundreds of farmers were soon on the scene. Other cars that were following the fatal one soon arrived, and in a short time hundreds of volunteers were at work. Farmers and their wives and daughters came with blankets and linens and all the physicians in Bridgeport and Stratford who were available were summoned. The car was soon separated, the bottom portion being lifted off. The top was buried several feet in the mud and the bodies of the dead and dying were strewn about. Few of the bodies were badly mangled.

Three physicians who were passengers on a car a short distance behind arrived quickly on the scene and rendered all possible assistance to the injured. Word was sent to Bridgeport and three ambulances and a police wagon were hurried to the scene, and the injured were taken to Bridgeport's general hospital. A morgue was improvised in the main room of the town hall at Stratford and in a very short time twenty-three bodies were laid out, awaiting identification.

The Stratford town hall, where the bodies were taken, was soon besieged by more than 1,000 persons, some of whom had relatives or friends among the dead, and the deputy sheriffs in charge had much difficulty in handling the crowd of weeping women and anxious men.

All the persons killed sustained fractured skulls.

William Kelly of Bridgeport, who was with Miss Farrell, escaped death by jumping from the car as he felt it swaying to the flats below. Soon afterward the car toppled over. He sustained a severe shock, but was otherwise uninjured. He stated that the car was not running at unusual speed, but that it was swaying considerably when it struck the trestle, and he realized the danger and knew that his only safety was in jumping.

One of the pathetic scenes was that of a lifeless baby reclining in the arms of a dead man, the infant appearing to be smiling and asleep. The 3-year-old son of Mrs. J. H. Rugg was frantically appealing to his dead mother. His sister, 5 years old, had her left arm broken.

Forty fares were registered, and these, with the young children that did not have to pay, the motorman and conductor and an extra motorman, who was being taught, make the probable number on the car forty-seven.

The cause of the accident is uncertain. The car is too badly wrecked to give an indication of possible defects of its wheels. South of the trestle is quite an incline, on which the car ran down at a very high rate of speed. After it ran onto the trestle for about ten feet the trucks left the rails and the car continued on the ties for about seventy-five feet, when it went off the trestle and dropped into the ravine below, overturning completely and up-ending. When the car struck, the motor, which weighed four tons, and the heavy trucks crushed into it, instantly killing many of the passengers.

Just before the train arrived at the ferry the excursionists learned that only about a third of their number could be accommodated on the Sappho, and that the rest would have to wait for later trips of the boat. All were anxious to go on the first boat, and when the train came to the ferry wharf there was a rush for the steamer. The people jumped over the sides of the Sappho, clambered onto the lower decks, and a living, seething mass of 800 to 1,000 persons were struggling and pushing in an endeavor to reach the boat slip. About 200 had passed over in safety, when, with a terrific crash, the wooden slip broke in two exactly in the middle, letting both ends down into the water. The broken halves of the slip hung down and, with the wharf piling, boxed in the ends so that there was no escape either by side or at the ends if a person could swim unless they had presence of mind enough to dive down several feet and under the wooden partition, and in this box, as it were, in about twenty feet of water, 200 human beings were struggling, screaming, fighting for their lives. The crowd kept pushing toward the slip for several seconds after the accident until fifty more persons had been pushed into the water.

After the first moment of stupefaction the work of rescue was begun. Ropes and life preservers were thrown to the crowd, but in the panic the people in the water clutched one another and many sank thus in groups in a death grapple. Many were taken from the water unconscious and were revived with difficulty.

More than 150 persons were pulled out of the water by the employees of the railroad in a very brief time. Divers were soon on the scene and recovered twenty bodies. It is doubtful if more will be found, as the swift tide probably carried them out to sea.

Many persons had been injured in the struggle on the edge of the wharf and in the water, and such of these as needed immediate attention were taken to the Hotel Bluffs near the station and waited upon by the physicians.

The sufferers from injuries will not be as numerous as those who suffered from shock and exposure due to the immersion in the water. Of these several were reported to be in a critical state.

BAR HARBOR DEAD NUMBERS THIRTY

THE FIFTY INJURED ARE DOING WELL.

Believed This Morning That All of the Bodies of Those Who Perished in Sunday's Pier Accident Have Been Recovered—Collapse of a Gang Plank.

Bar Harbor, Me.—[Special]—It is believed this morning that all of the bodies of those who perished in Sunday's pier accident have been recovered and that the list of the dead will remain at twenty. The fifty who were injured are doing well.

Bar Harbor, Me., Aug. 7.—Twenty excursionists are known to have been drowned by the breaking of the Mount Desert ferry slip or gang plank Sunday morning, and about forty more were injured. It is thought that several others lost their lives, but no more bodies have been recovered. The accident was due to the collapse of the slip during a frantic rush to get aboard the steamer Sappho. Two hundred and fifty persons were thrown into the water when the slip broke, and there was a frantic struggle for life. The dead, as far as recovered and identified, are: Mrs. William Murray, Brewer; Irving Bridges, West Hancock; Albert Colson, Levant; Mrs. Alonzo P. Oakes, Bangor; Miss Grace Sumner, Bangor; Joseph Murphy, Old Town; Mrs. Hollis W. Estey, Ellsworth; Clifford Cushman, Corinth; Miss Lizzie Ward, Bangor; Charles W. Downs, Ellsworth; F. E. Svestzer, traveling salesman, Portland; Ora N. Lank, Danforth; G. H. Bennett, Brewer; Mrs. G. H. Bennett, Brewer; Mrs. Charles Stover, Ellsworth; Melvin McCard, Corinth; Mrs. A. H. Billings, Bangor; Mrs. George Derwent, Bangor; Miss Lewis, Hampden, Me.; unidentified woman, believed to be a saleswoman for a Boston publishing house.

The warships of the north Atlantic squadron are in the harbor, and the Maine Central railroad arranged excursions from all over the state to run to this resort Sunday. In order to give the people an opportunity to see the ships, Bar Harbor is reached by train by a branch of the Maine Central running from Bangor. At Mount Desert the ferry is the terminus of the railroad, and here steamers are taken for this place, eight miles across Frenchman's bay.

The first excursion train from Portland, Bangor and stations along the Boston and Maine line reached the ferry at 10:20 o'clock in the morning. The train consisted of eleven cars, and more than 1,300 persons were crowded on board.

Just before the train arrived at the ferry the excursionists learned that only about a third of their number could be accommodated on the Sappho, and that the rest would have to wait for later trips of the boat. All were anxious to go on the first boat, and when the train came to the ferry wharf there was a rush for the steamer. ## SIXTY FEET OF ST. P. TRACKS PULLED UP

TROUBLE ON RACEWAY SATURDAY AND SUNDAY.

Resulted in a Confusion of Switching Orders Which Supt. Earling Explained Today—Conferred With Mr. Jeffris This Morning—Amicable Understanding Will be Reached.

Sixty feet of the C. & N. W. track along the raceway was pulled up Saturday night and Sunday morning. The trouble resulted in a confusion over Milwaukee & St. P. switching orders which Supt. Earling explained today.

A few days ago orders were received from Chicago that C. & N. W. cars consigned to D. K. Jeffris would not be set in on the raceway tracks of the Milwaukee & St. P. As these are the only tracks from which lumber intended for the dry kiln can be loaded and unloaded without loss of time, the inconvenience to Jeffris & Co. was considerable.

What part this friction had to do with the removal of the tracks is not known. In order to lay tracks into the dry kiln, it was found necessary to occupy some of the grounds crossed by one of the switch tracks. Preparations were, therefore, made for removing fifty feet of the easterly St. P. sidetrack. The work was pushed through by a gang of men in charge of Foreman Chas. Carpenter. There was no interruption Sunday morning the C. & N. W. P. roadmaster made inquiry as to the authority for removing the track and was referred to Mr. Jeffris, but did not inquire further.

Supt. Earling came up from Chicago this morning and conferred with Mr. Jeffris. It is believed that an amicable understanding will be reached before the end of the week and that the tracks will be put back in one shape or another. At present only one sidetrack is in use.

COL. BELL'S NEW REGIMENT. Splendid Force Composed of Men Who Have Re-enlisted—Announcement. Manila, Aug. 7.—That the insurgents are becoming more and more daring is strikingly shown in the manner in which they have transferred three American prisoners from Cavite to Bataan province.

The prisoners were those captured from a small boat belonging to the Relief on May 29. Last Wednesday night the Americans, together with seventy Spanish prisoners, were loaded in cascoes, then they were towed across the bay by a steam launch. The cascoes, with their escort, passed directly under the guns of Corregidor island and escaped the American patrol which is supposed to be on the lookout for just such expeditions. The landing was made at Bataan without the Americans discovering the movement.

Col. J. F. Bell, with the Thirty-sixth infantry, has joined the American forces under Gen. MacArthur, stationed at San Fernando. The Thirty-sixth infantry is made up of discharged veterans from both the regular and volunteer regiments who desired to remain in the Philippines and fight the insurgents. It is claimed that the enlistment is fully as large as was expected by Gen. Otis when he launched his scheme to form additional regiments from the discharged soldiers already in the Philippines.

Daniel Garcia, a wealthy planter whose estates are in one of the northern provinces of Luzon, and who has been held a prisoner by the insurgents at the seaport town of Currimao, in Ilocos Norte province, for the last seven months, passed through Gen. MacArthur's lines and arrived in Manila Sunday. He confirms the report of the capture of the ship Saturnus by the insurgents.

He reports that there is plenty of provisions in the provinces through which he traveled. He saw abundant stores of rice, tobacco, meat, eggs and sugar. Senior Garcia reports that there was abundance of Mauser and Remington ammunition. He could not estimate the number of soldiers in the insurgent army, but said there were thousands of Filipinos waiting for the call to action.

Yaguils Will Prolong War. Austin, Texas, Aug. 7.—Information received from Terrazas, Chihuahua, Mexico, which is located near the scene of the Yaqui uprising, is to the effect that the Indians are arranging for a prolonged war. Samoa's Commissioners Back. San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 7.—The cruiser Badger arrived from Samoa Sunday, having on board Bartlett Tripp and Baron von Sternburg, the American and German commissioners. The commissioners are on the most friendly terms and gave emphatic denial that there is any friction between the members of the board.

840,000,000 from Klondike. Vancouver, B. C., Aug. 7.—Forty millions is the latest estimate by Gov. Ogilvie of the Klondike clean-up this season. Origin of a Modern Cheer. A man named Adams has been investigating the mysteries of the pyramids and monuments of Egypt, and has found the phrase "Hip-hip-hurrah" among the early hieroglyphics of that country. The only consolation derivable from this remarkable discovery, the London Telegraph observes, "is the argument that may reasonably be deduced that the presence of these British words among the etymological treasures of Pharaoh land give us a priori right to the whole of the Nile valley." And this theory is strengthened by the fact that, according to Mr. Adams, the hieroglyphic "Hip-hip-hurrah" means, when translated, "On, on, to plunder."

Origin of Memorial Day. The idea of Memorial day originated among the women of Maryland, who put flowers on the graves of both federal and confederate long before the surrender of Appomattox. The women of other states soon began following the custom. In 1868 Gen. John A. Logan, as commander in chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, appointed May 30 for that purpose.

A Famous Dog. Sultan, a Newfoundland dog, has just died in France. He was noted for having arrested a thief, capturing an assassin, rescuing a child from drowning and saving a man who attempted suicide. The Society for the Protection of Animals presented him with a collar. Recently he prevented a castle being robbed, and was poisoned, it is supposed, by those who attempted the robbery.

TRIAL OF CAPTAIN ALFRED DEYFUS

Began at Seven O'clock This Morning.

ALL THAT'S CONNECTED WITH THE EVENT IS KEVED.

Guards Came on Duty at Daybreak and All Rennes is on Tiptoe at the Dead Line Drawn Around the Court and Prison—Murmurs of Curiosity Arose From the Crowd as the Accused Passed, But There Was No Demonstration—Prisoner Reaffirms His Innocence.

Rennes, Aug. 7.—[Special]—The trial of Captain Alfred Dreyfus began at 7 o'clock this morning, and everything is keyed to the event. Guards came on duty at daybreak, and all Rennes was on tiptoe at the dead line drawn around the court and prison.

Files of troops were stationed along the street across which Captain Dreyfus had to pass to reach Lycee. The morning was bright and warm.

The prisoner was escorted across the street by two policemen. Murmurs of curiosity arose from the crowd as he passed, but there was no demonstration. The crowd, in fact, was apparently in good humor. Following Dreyfus came a number of prominent witnesses—President Cassimer Perier, ex-Minister of War Zurlinden, General Chanoine and others. A majority of those wore brilliant uniforms, and were cheered by the crowds. Lieutenant-Colonel Picquart was also applauded, but there were a few murmurs of disapproval.

It was but a few minutes past seven when Dreyfus was ordered to the stand and the act accusing him of betraying French military secrets to a foreign power, were read.

At the conclusion of this the prisoner gave his name, age and grade and said: "I am Captain Alfred Dreyfus, who is named in this accusation," with a voice firm.

He did not look triumphant, but as one who was about to realize a long hope.

Did Not Recognize Bordereau. During the reading of the accusation, the court took a recess to consider the excuses of absent witnesses and upon the resumption of the session the reading of the accusation was resumed.

At the conclusion the prisoner was ordered to the stand and Col. Jouanet said, handing Dreyfus the bordereau: "Do you recognize this?" Dreyfus: "I do not." Jouanet: "Is that your work?" Dreyfus: "It is not."

As the prisoner said this he trembled palpably, and in a voice throbbing with emotion repeated:

"I am innocent. Upon my honor and everything I hold dear to my country and my children, I am innocent."

The examination of the prisoner followed. He answered questions firmly and promptly, and his replies to questions relating to the different documents which concerned the treason charge were always of the same tenor, "Had no knowledge of it," or simply, "never."

A Burst of Indignation. The prisoner denied that he had ever visited Germany or Italy on certain dates. His answers were, "No," or "Never." There was a burst of indignation sounded through the hall when the court asked: "Did you cross into Italy, carrying documents for foreign power?"

Dreyfus answered with intense emphasis, "Absolutely, never."

This caused a buzz of comment from the officers present, and the court cried, "Silence." The scene was highly dramatic.

After a short secret session, the court announced that it would deliberate on the secret dossier behind closed doors tomorrow or perhaps for a longer period, after which the court adjourned for today.

McKinley Buys His Old Home. Canton, Ohio, Aug. 7.—President McKinley has purchased the famous "McKinley cottage," at the corner of North Market street and Louis avenue. The consideration was $14,500. The property was endeared to President and Mrs. McKinley as their first home, where they began housekeeping, and by tender memories of sorrows there. The front veranda shows the most wear from the historic campaign of 1896, when the noted home was the political Mecca for nearly 1,000,000 people.

PORTAGE BOY HURT IN THE PHILIPPINES

KRUKEL ENLISTED UNDER
NAME OF JOHN M'GREGOR.

Miss Olive Roy, of Fond du Lac, Run
Down and Killed By a Switch
Engine.—Madison Young Lady
Struck By a Bottle Thrown From a Train.—State News.

Portage, Wis., Aug. 7.—John McGregor, private of Troop C, Fourth United States cavalry, who, General Otis cables, was severely wounded in the knee in the Philippines, is believed to be Henry Krukkel of this city. Krukkel is 23 years of age, and went to the Philippines on the City of Pekin, with the first expedition to that country. The parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Krukkel, who reside at the first ward, has been apprised by the son of the fact that he had enlisted in the government service under an assumed name. Krukkel said he did this because he was the only German in the troop, and to be a popular member of that organization it was necessary to have a cognomen of either Irish or Scotch pronunciation, hence the name of McGregor.

Killed at a Crossing.

Fond du Lac, Wis., Aug. 7.—Miss Olive Roy, aged 23, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Liquori Roy, was run down by a Northwestern switch engine Saturday afternoon and instantly killed. She was an employee of the Badger Sewing company and was leading a wheel from which she had dismounted, while going over the crossing. A freight train was passing on one of the main tracks and the noise probably prevented Miss Roy from hearing the switch engine which came down upon her from a side track obstructed from view by the Tumsey refrigerator factory. Her neck was broken and she was dragged a distance of over fifty feet before the engine in charge of Engineer John Niland and Charles Cleveland, was stopped.

Justice Watson impaneled a coroner's jury and after viewing the remains adjournment was taken until today.

Boys Led Into Crime.

Racine, Wis., Aug. 7.—Robert Rowitz, a junk dealer, was found guilty in the municipal court of buying stolen brass and copper from boys. He was fined $5 and costs. The past week the police have located at least twenty boys who have been doing a land office business stealing brass, copper, lead and iron. They removed a large number of brass cups from engines at the J. I. Case Threshing Machine company, visited the new schoolhouses and carried away large quantities of lead and sold it to junk dealers; entered grocery stores and stole crates of musk melons, berries and bunches of bananas.

Unusual Accident At Madison.

Madison, Wis., Aug. 7.—Miss Alice O'Sheridan, a resident of South Madison, was struck on the head and seriously injured by a catapult bottle thrown from an excursion train on the Northwestern road Saturday. The train was passing through Madison from Chicago to Devil's lake, and as it was crossing Lake Monona a passenger threw out the bottle. Miss O'Sheridan was going to her home in South Madison by way of the railroad track across the lake, and the bottle struck her on the head.

Drowned While in Swimming.

Eagle, Wis., Aug. 7.—Henry DeWitt, Jr., member of the dry goods firm of Ritchey & Co., Troy Center, drowned while swimming with several companions in Lake Lulu yesterday. He was a son of William C. BEST WAGES PAID IN YEARS

Another Advance in the Pay of Men On The Milwaukee Road.

Railroad laborers are now earning the highest wages that have been paid them in twenty years. There has been another advance in the pay of the men employed by McIntosh Bros., contractors, of Milwaukee, upon the grading of Milwaukee road system between Brookfield Junction and Portage. This work was begun early in the year. About 1,000,000 cubic yards are to be handled and only about a third of the work is done. The contractors now have at work two steam shovels and a great many teams and men, but they are still employing additional men, and are paying for teams $4 a day instead of $3.50 a day, paid when the work was begun. Day laborers are now being paid $2 a day instead of $1.75 as at first. Station men, who work by the piece, filling in or excavating at stations 100 yards apart all along the line, are now being paid from 18 to 20 cents a cubic yard, instead of 15 cents, the wages that were first paid them when work was begun a few months ago.

FREE TEXT BOOKS CARRIES AT BELOIT

NEW DEPARTURE FAVORED BY A SMALL VOTE.

Less Than One-twentieth of Those Entitled to Cast a Ballot, Show Interest Enough to Attend the Caucus—High School is Excluded—Free Press' Views.

Two hundred and forty-six was the total number of school electors of the city of Beloit who took interest enough in the question of free text books to attend the adjourned caucus at the High school building in that city last Friday evening. Of this number 145 voted in favor of the proposition.

The Daily Free Press in speaking of the matter, says:

The meeting was opened at 4 o'clock, and Mayor Simon Smith was chosen chairman. C. B. Salmon asked unanimous consent to substitute the following resolution for the preceding motion made by him at the meeting August 1, and moved its adoption:

Resolved, That the Beloit city school district provide free text books for all pupils attending the public schools in said district, except the High school, under such conditions and regulations as the Beloit city school board may prescribe, and that a tax of $2,500 be levied to meet the expense of furnishing free text books to such pupils.

No objection being made, the chairman stated the question to be upon the foregoing resolution. The chairman and Messrs. F. E. Converse and A. N. Bort were appointed tellers to receive and count the votes. The poles were opened and votes were received until nine o'clock, when the count showed the result to be 145 votes in favor of the resolution and 101 against the same.

Mr. L. H. Parker offered the following resolution which was lost:

Resolved, That $500 be levied upon the taxable property of the district, and the same to be placed upon the tax roll of 1899, same to be expended for reference books and supplementary reading books for the grade schools.

Views Editorially.

The result of the balloting on the question of free text books was favorable and this new departure will be made after the beginning of the coming year. The vote was very light, evidently showing either a prevailing indifference to the matter or a somewhat general acquiescence in which ever decision the ballot box might disclose. There is in the public mind the sentiment that whatever is best adapted to strengthen the public school system and render it more efficient in increasing the education of the masses should be adopted and applied, and therefore while many may have considered it expedient to adopt the free text book system they gave the proposition "the benefit of a doubt" and refrained from voting "yes" or "no."

MIDSUMMER MODES.

THE CLIMAX OF FASHION'S ATTRACTIONS AND NOVELTIES.

Transparent Neck and Sleeves—Dainties Make Charming Morning Dresses—Old Fashioned Linen Traveling Gowns Revived.

Everything that is delicate and diaphanous is in high favor now, bringing visions of the old days when sleeping shoulders, fuchsia and poke bonnets were leading features of fashion, says the New York Sun in presenting the modes from which the following are gleaned:

One of the distinguishing features of dress just at the moment is the use of embroidered batiste in white, cream and ecru tints. It is made up into gowns, lined with colored silk, pale pink for a choice.

Other pretty gowns are made of cream net dotted over with applique designs of cream lace, and elbow sleeves are one of the refreshing features of the latest summer costumes.

Transparent neck and sleeves are one of the special features of all the thin gowns, while another, which is quite new this season, is the belt of the same material to give the long unbroken line from the shoulder to the hem.

Printed chine silk muslin in both black and white grounds are very popular, as are all the cotton muslins classed under the head of wash fabrics. Muslin gowns in great variety loom up conspicuously in the vista of fashionable dress, but they are not the simple affairs that the name suggests. Extravagance runs riot quite as much among the thin gowns as any other variety, but the expense is chiefly in the making and accessories, with silk linings, miles of lace and ribbons for trimmings and the proper hats and parasols to match.

Dainties made up without any lining are charming morning dresses for the street, especially in the dark colors. Dark blue and black Swiss with white dots are very fashionable made up over silk or a dainty lining.

Muslin gowns are not the only division in summer dress which is expensive, for the pique, duck and linen suits carry a goodly amount of extravagance in their train. They must be up to date in every sense, tailor made, if possible, or they will not pass muster. White lawn or silk shirt waists are most generally worn with the pique coat and skirt, but colored silk waists with the white pique are very popular, as they were last season. Gray pique is very much worn, and with this the pale pink and blue shirt waists are very pretty.

In white pique is a pretty gown trimmed with white embroidered insertion set in around the skirt in points. The vest of tucked white lawn has an outer vest of embroidery which makes it very effective.

The old fashion of wearing linen gowns for traveling has been revived this season, and very pretty weaves are shown in this material. The ecru and gray tints are the prevailing colors, patterned with black or brown spots.

Among the new blouse waists of silk is one tucked in diamond form and trimmed with mchlin lace run through with satin ribbon. Another tucked silk waist shows a corselet belt of cream lace, and a wide collar of closely corded pipings in three shades of the color of the bodice is the special feature of still another bodice. Silk covered with an applique of lace forms the yoke, fastened with a double row of small black velvet buttons.

How to Cook Macaroni With Bacon.

Boil two or more ounces of nice streaky bacon, then cut it into small pieces and stir in a quarter of a pound of macaroni boiled for macaroni cheese. If liked, add a few drops of vinegar, pepper and salt and serve very hot. Very little salt is required.

FLOATING ISLANDS.

A Proposition to Put Them Within the Reach of All.

Frank W. Flanders of Sturgis, Mich., has built himself a floating island and has it anchored in a little lake near his home, where he can spend day after day upon it, either for the purpose of work or recreation. He proposes to make islands to order when letters patent are issued at Washington for his invention, so if you are a millionaire you can have an archipelago of your own if you choose, where you may summer or winter free from the vulgar gaze, but still in reach of any water resort in the world.

Indeed, this island is a most accommodating spot. It is constructed so that its platforms are high and dry above water, where no wave can splash. It has no rocking motion and is perfectly stable. Though it floats upon airtight casks, there is no danger of their puncturing. It can be towed upon any water and rolled upon any land. In short, it is possible to use it for any purpose conceivable where a stable and safe float is demanded.

Mr. Flanders has organized and incorporated a company and has it ready to establish an extensive plant. He expects that there will be an enormous demand for his invention. To many it will take the place of the houseboat, to others it will serve as a fine fishing or shooting ground, to still others it will afford an ideal spot for camping.

The island that Mr. Flanders has built as an experimental model is 12 feet by 16 in size. On it 10 persons have been supported without taxing its capacity. One man with a rowboat can move it about readily, while two persons can roll it high and dry on the beach. It bears the weight of one tree and a large number of bushes and shrubs, while a good sized tent erected on it affords protection from the weather for six persons at night.

SON OF TURKEY'S SULTAN.

Made a Mussulman Amid the Most Elaborate Ceremony.

The youngest son of the sultan of Turkey, 5-year-old Prince Abdul-Rahim Effendi, has embraced the Moslem faith, a step implying a vast amount of ceremony. The prince is small for his five years, a serious faced, slim legged little fellow.

Some months ago the announcement was solemnly made to him that he was about to be received into the bosom of Islam. So the little prince began to prepare for the ceremony under the guidance of his religious tutors. Diplomats from all over Europe, even from America, were invited to come to the Turkish capital to take part in the ceremonies.

In the brilliant salons of Yildiz Kiosk the chief rite of this ceremony took place. According to the Mohammedan custom the father of a child about to be made a Mussulman is considered particularly pious if a number of other children are invited to share in the rites which have been arranged for at his expense. The sultan accordingly achieved great popularity by inviting in the first place a number of high born boys to act as his son's companions and undergo the same rites.

Homely Eulogy of a Kansan.

Andrew Dixon of Kansas, who died the other day, was thus eulogized by a neighbor: "He was the kindest man I ever see. When a neighbor was sick Andy was always around. He would do up the chores, split wood, help inside the house or ride like a horse for the doctor. He always wanted you to get well, and you knew it by looking at his face. If you would die Andy would go out there on the hill and dig your grave—if it took him four days it had to be his' so. Jus' so long, so deep and so wide. He wanted to see 'em put away right."

New Colors.

Sparrow gray and sparrow brown are the two most recent developments in color for spring walking and traveling suits, whether of tweed or covert cloth. It is impossible not to remark the predominance of stitching used by way of decoration on the plain walking suit, and also the unchecked sway of the tallest coat to the utter discomfort of the little old-style jacket cut. Most of the coats, as women love to call them, have double-breasted tongue fronts that are more interesting than strictly ornamental.

The Temptation of Skill.

The head of a family in this city was lately debating with a friend whether to accept the opinion of a leading specialist that a certain surgical operation should be performed. He is a lawyer and expressed himself with lawyer-like precision: "The temptation of skill is so great that it cannot be safely disregarded in accepting the verdict of our leading surgeons. The general medical consultants defer so entirely to the specialists that no new light can be had from them. One knows not what to do."

Spiders and the Diving Bell.

There is nothing new in the diving bell. Long before man thought he invented it the water spider knew all about it. The water spider crawls down a reed, dragging his diving bell with him, and anchors it under water on a level keel so that the air it contains keeps the water out.

Buggy Tastes are Changing

The monotonous style of vehicle of a few years ago does not find place with the up to-date buyer of today.

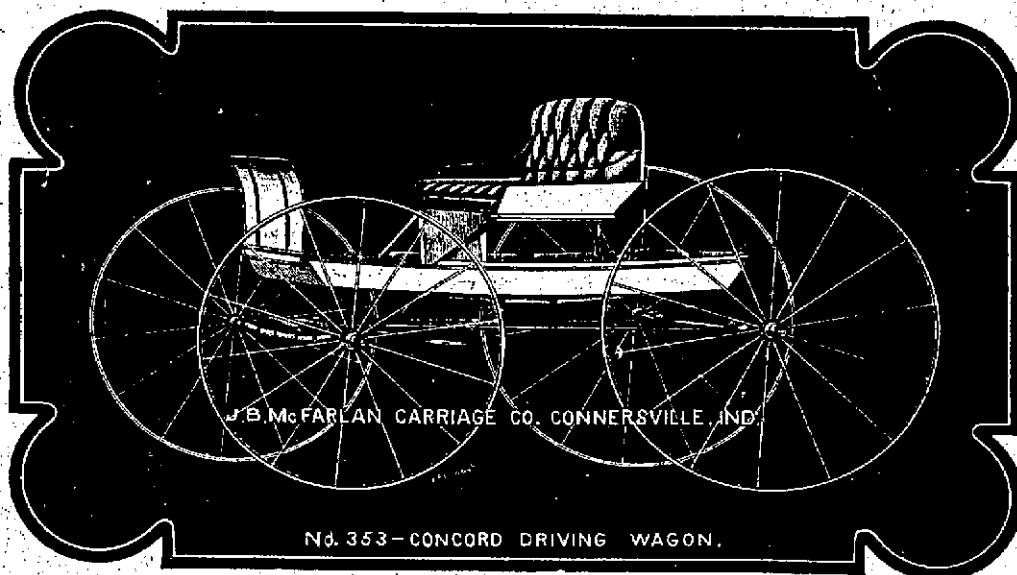

The demand for rigs of natty appearance increases each season. This year the swell turnouts combine comfort with style. The open runabout buggy with elliptic springs and rubber tires, or the top buggies with rubber tires, have a tendency to make the person who has no outfit a trifle envious. Handsome Buggies do not cost as much as you think for. Prices are reasonable and the rigs are the best.

A BUSINESS LIKE LAW.

The new law requiring that all claims against the city be presented to the council and disallowed before a suit can be begun will do much in the way of checking unnecessary litigation. The claimant who cannot convince the aldermen, who will, of course, be anxious to avoid a suit of the justice of their demand may think twice before seeking to convince a jury. Under this law the council will have a chance to settle claims wherein the city should pay, and to learn of the merits of claims that are unjust, thus fortifying the defense if the claimant refuses to abide by the council's decision. This law, it would appear, is just to both the injured party and the municipality. The claimant will be enabled to receive just compensation without expense, and without having to divide with lawyers, while the city will not be mulct to pay for fictitious suffering, etc. Both the claimant and the city will thus get justice, for claims will be settled as they should be settled—as a matter of business between man and man.

The property owners on West Milwaukee street all had a chance to be heard in relation to the paving of Milwaukee street before the pavement was ordered, but only one, W. H. Tallman, appeared to protest. Hence, the committee went ahead as the law provides. Was there anything unjust about this proceeding? Should the committee be required to go out and drag the property owners before the meeting and "compel them to kick?"

We are not certain as to the pronunciation of the name of former President Heuresaux, but hazard the remark that his tragic death will only confirm the belief, with many people that "it is better to be a live coward than a dead-heuresaux."

One of the heaviest property owners on West Milwaukee street notifies The Gazette that he is pleased to see this paper advocate the laying of a pavement on that street. He favors the pavement because it is the best, and the best is always the cheapest.

The council has decided to inaugurate a "new deal" in street work, and abandon the old system of hauling gravel onto the streets in the spring only to shovel it out of the gutter in the fall. Which flag do you enlist under, Mr. Taxpayer, the old or the new?

The Recorder, in Sunday morning's issue, publishes a long editorial on the pavement question from which we learn that The Recorder is neither in favor of opposed to either macadam or pavement, but is against anything that The Gazette endorses. "Tis well.

A movement has been started in Kansas to give every man in Col. Funston's regiment a political office upon his return home. The Kansans are greatly proud of the regiment and they cannot plan any too great honors for their gallant boys.

The common council meets this evening, and the principal business transacted is likely to be the ordering of a brick pavement on West Milwaukee street.

Obsolete methods must go. There's a new deal now, and as the result Janesville is to have some good streets.

Macadam is all right for residence streets, but business streets require a pavement.

The aldermen are on the right track. When we do a thing we should do it well.

"The general" sent his orders. They are tardy, but they finally arrived.

THE GOWNS AT BIARRITZ.

Henriette Rousseau Tells What Is Worn at the Famous Resort.

If there is a more delightful spot than this old and fashionable watering place, I have yet to find it. The breeze blows refreshingly all day and all night, sweeping down part of the time from the Pyrenees, pungent with the breath of the pines, and the rest blowing in from the sea, laden with the life giving salt spray. The place itself is quaint and old in some parts and painfully modern in others. The most painful parts of the modern portion are the astounding prices put upon everything, especially if the visitors are suspected of being Americans.

The Frenchwomen who come to Biarritz are usually of the wealthiest class, for poor ones or even those of moderate circumstances cannot afford to throw away their money, and the Frenchwoman is thrifty. The most of the nobility have their country seats and there pass the summer, but they try to pass at least a couple of weeks at this delightful spot.

As to the bathing costumes, I will dismiss them at once, saying only that they are so very scanty in material that it is useless to waste time upon them. The Frenchwoman likes an occasion like this and seizes it. Even in Newport no such bathing suits were ever dreamed of.

But, bathing suits aside, there can be no place where there is a more lavish display of fine costumes. Even on the day of the Grand Prix and Vernissage the dresses are not so fine. And here we have variety. There are delicious morning dresses of cashmere, veiling, estival and popeline d'ete. These are half smothered in lace, with just a few satin ribbons to lighten them up.

The gowns for the early promenade are apt to be of mohair. While mohairs, made as the Parisian modistes only know how to treat this stuff, is a wonderfully attractive gown. It is tailor finished and has no trimming, but very narrow white soutache. White braid on the white mohair does not sound much, but it is very charming when seen. The new delicate lavender, the violet and several shades of gray and two or three of pink are all seen in these tailor gowns of mohair.

Perhaps one reason of the popularity of mohair here is that the sea air does not cockle or shrink it, a fault often found with almost every kind of woolen goods otherwise suitable for seaside wear. Gray is and always was a favorite with Frenchwomen. And I think they are the only ones who can seize upon all its possibilities.

Traveling dresses are always worn rather ostentatiously for the first two days, and every lady has at least two. This is done perhaps to impress the people with the fact that the newcomer has not quite decided to remain and does not choose to compromise her position as a traveler until further acquaintance.

These traveling suits are elegance itself. The colors are light and the skirts are close and rather long, but quite simple. The corsets are almost all in a short bolero shaped jacket which can be closed or left open. This always matches the skirt. Some of these boleros are quite plain, but others are very ornate. A regular shirt waist is worn beneath them. Foulle is a new weave of wool for tailor and traveling costumes. It is light and springy and does not crush.

For carriages, for afternoons about the parlors and porches and the delightful gardens there is no limit to the beautiful gowns. Silks, crapes, grenadines, muslins, organdies and no end of lace and chiffons are seen.

White jackets made of a fine felted flannel with a close twill are carried ready to slip on if the sea air grows cool. These dainty little jackets are lined with bright colored taffeta lace.

The dinner dresses are marvels of lightness and elegance and all have that quality described by no other word than chic. Voiles, or veilings with satin stripes, are very beautiful. They are made with tunics, the edges of the tunic and that of the skirt richly trimmed with lace, ribbon and all sorts of frivolity in the shape of ruffles, puffs, ruches and gaufring.

One elegant gown of pure white nun's veiling had a scalloped tunic, all the scallops outlined with rennaissance lace in ivory color, the edges being finished with a silk fringe. Imagine lace with a silk fringe! It is too rich for common folks.

Grenadine and the delicate fine wool barege are both used to make exquisite creations for evening. These are nearly always all in one solid color or rather tint, for as a rule they are light in color. They are trimmed so elaborately with lace that it is hopeless to try to describe them. Much fringe is used also, and it is always graceful.

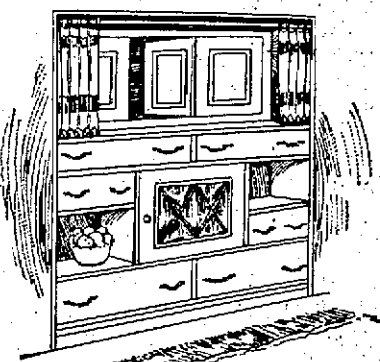

White, cream ivory and black lace gowns over slips of colored silk or satin are very fashionable here for evening dress. Also, there is a new shade of lace called ocher, a sort of rich yet dull yellow. This comes in skirt widths, also as flouncing and other widths. It is made up over black taffeta or satin, and thus treated it is of indescribable richness. HENRIETTE ROUSSEAU, Biarritz, France.

UNIQUE SIDEBOARD.

FOR A ROOM WHERE HOSPITALITY IS MORE APPARENT THAN SPACE.

A Clever Device With Many Advantages For a Small Dining Room—It Saves Discomfort and Is Convenient For Waitress and Cook.

The dining table, with the six chairs that are usually provided, will often fill a small room so that it is almost impossible to include other furnishings that go far toward making a hospitable looking and cheery place in which the family meet together at their meals and entertain the guests. Among clever devices suggested by a writer in The Household to remedy this state of things is the unique sideboard here illustrated and described.

The sideboard has several unique features. It is built into the wall between the dining room and the kitchen, these rooms usually being found adjoining. One cut shows the sideboard from the dining room side, the other gives a view of it as seen from the kitchen. It does not project at all into the dining room—a saving of space that will be appreciated by many housewives who have experienced the discomfort of attempting to entertain friends about a table where hospitality was more apparent than space.

It often happens that the other rooms of the house are laid out quite at the expense of the room in which the family is to dine. This room usually gets the space that is left after the others have been satisfactorily arranged. This, perhaps, comes from the feeling that the dining room is to be the least used, in point of time, of any room in the house. The sacrificing of space in the room where all the family meals are to be eaten is almost without exception regretted afterward, especially if much furniture is placed in it.

The construction of such a sideboard as is shown here will help out a crowded condition of the room by removing the necessity for the usual movable sideboard. But it has other advantages that will be recounted: The entire sideboard projects into the kitchen. At the back, above the top, are three glass panels. The middle one is hinged and opens like a door. This gives opportunity to set in from the kitchen side any article that may be needed upon the table.

If the hostess must do her own serving or when guests are not present if the family must wait upon themselves, the arrangement here shown will be found very desirable: The curtains can be drawn during the meal, and at a stroke of the bell the cook can set in upon the sideboard the hot dessert from the oven or the cold dessert from the ice chest, together with the coffee or chocolate. The convenience of this plan does not need comment.

It will be seen from the kitchen illustration that the two upper drawers in the sideboard pull out into the kitchen as well as into the dining room. The knives, forks, spoons, etc., can thus be washed in the kitchen and put into the drawers without leaving the room. Here the less used kitchen tinware can be stored. Such a sideboard can be built into an old house without much trouble.

The Ubiquitous and Stylish Bolero.

The ubiquity of the bolero is a bit disconcerting, yet everywhere we find this little coatee invested with every possible element of novelty to justify its existence and continue it in the vanguard of fashions. In foulard, voile and the like it will be well to note how frequently are draped folds resorted to, these lending a most becoming breadth and fullness to the figure of slim svelte proportions.

Also are boleros tucked in ways innumerable, or piped; left open or closed with eccentric buttons, sloped up or down in front; completed with high collar or merely vandyked at the neck, as elsewhere round the edges. Literally and in very truth the bolero can do no wrong. In its more elongated form—when, strictly speaking, it becomes an Eton—linen costumes claim the vogue particularly for their own.

THE DRUGGISTS ARE ARRIVING IN TOWN

ARRANGEMENTS COMPLETED FOR THE GALA DAYS.

Local Druggists and Clerks Met This Morning and Made Final Arrangements.—G. W. Chase, of Rochester, New York, Arrived Last Night—Many Coming Tonight.

G. W. Chase, of Rochester, N. Y., and Pharmacist John Koerner, and wife of Wauwatosa, Wis., arrived in the city last evening, coming to attend the full four days' meeting of the Wisconsin Pharmaceutical association. The first named gentleman is a representative of an eastern drug firm and has not failed to attend a meeting of the association in the past fifteen years. Mr. Koerner is a prosperous druggist of Wauwatosa and a son of Rev. John C. Koerner, of this city. This is the second delegation to arrive. During the day many of the visitors were received and the great in-rush is expected this evening.

Other visitors who arrived during the day are as follows: G. L. Chase, of Rochester, N. Y., one of the steady attendants at the meetings, is registered at the Myers. J. C. Meseroll and wife, of Brooklyn, N. Y., are registered at the Myers Hotel. Mr. Meseroll is an old attendant of the meetings. John Koerner and wife drove over from Wauwatosa to attend the meeting. Mr. Koerner has a nice pharmacy at Wauwatosa. M. A. Sailor, of Baumbach Drug Co., is registered at the Myers. W. A. Sallade, Fond du Lac, the president of the Wisconsin Drug Travelers' association came this afternoon. The druggists and drug clerks of the city, met at the Bostwick vacant store on North Main street at 10 o'clock this morning for the purpose of making final arrangements. The meeting was short, however, and all hands engaged themselves at once in decorating and making the business thoroughfares look attractive to the eyes of the visiting druggists, families and friends.

The local druggists have challenged the traveling druggists to a game of ball, which will be played at Athletic park at 9 o'clock a. m., Wednesday.

The prizes which have been donated for the games and contests are of every description, and many of them are of considerable value. The names of the prizes commence with every letter of the alphabet and the different boxes, packages, letters, etc., have reached a number which has made it necessary to put them in a vacant store next to The Gazette office, until they are to be used.

And they are still coming, which goes to show the generosity of the pill compounds, and the interest they are taking in the coming meeting.

The parties Tuesday and Wednesday evenings are for the druggists and traveling men only. On Thursday the excursion is open to all. All druggists free; to others, fifty cents, will be charged for trip and games.

Then prepare a farce of cold remains of veal or mutton, with about one-fifth of chopped ham, some dripping, salt and pepper to season, chopped fresh aromatic herbs and the yolks of two eggs, adding as much bread crumbs as it will take up. Fill the halves of the cabbage leaves with this, join them and tie up with a thread, tightly. Then put the cabbage in a saucepan, with some bones of ham, four ounces of bacon or salt pork, one large or two small carrots (cut in four), a clove or sprig of thyme, salt to taste, white pepper to season. Cover the saucepan tightly and cook slowly 1 1/2 hours. Take out the cabbage, drain it, and after making a white sauce with white flour and the strained liquor, take away the binding threads and pour the sauce over the cabbage. This is a dinner in itself—meat and vegetables in one.

Convened This Morning in the Main Room of the High School Building—Over 150 Teachers Are Present—Attendance Exceeded Expectations of Superintendents Ross and Throne.

For the first time since Rock county has been divided into two school districts, a joint county institute is being held in this city. The first session was held today in the main room of the High school building and one hundred and thirty-two teachers were present. This is a large attendance for the first day and far exceeded the expectations of Superintendents Ross and Throne, who now predict a record breaking institute. Heretofore two institutes have been held each year directed by Supt. Throne in one district and Supt. Ross in the other. The two superintendents conceived the idea of holding a joint convention and if this one proves to be a success, which is assured, others of a similar nature will be held in the future. The use of the High school building has been generously donated by the board of education for the three weeks that the institute will be in session, and all of the meetings will be held there. The teachers are to have free access to the libraries of the building as well as the privilege to use all apparatus, etc., for carrying on the work, which will be mostly academic. An important branch of instruction will come up for discussion and will, no doubt meet with approval by all. It is that of agriculture. Ex. Gov. Hoard, State Superintendent Harvey and Prof. Henry of the Agricultural department of the University of Wisconsin have been pushing the matter of teaching agriculture in the country schools for some time with the result that it has been put in the syllabus of the work to be done during the institute here. It is most fitting that this branch should be taught in the rural schools.

For some years there has been a growing impression among superintendents and teachers that the lecture system has prevailed too largely in the institute work. The short term institutes have doubtless been the cause of the unquestioned growth of this system. It is expected by the institute committee that with the large number of longer institutes provided for this season, and by reason of the character of the work outlined, the lecture will be a less prominent feature of the work than it has been for years.

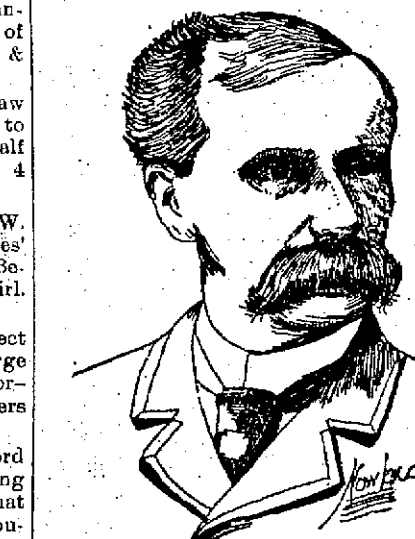

The purpose of all institute work is to develop teaching and training power. By teaching power is meant the power which is exerted to the end that the pupil may know that which is worth knowing, and by training power is meant the power which is exerted to the end that the pupil may do and be that worth his doing and being.

This institute will be the means of bringing to the city probably two hundred teachers and their stay should be made as pleasant as possible by the citizens of Janesville.

'HAMILTON'S BADGER BOYS'

War Song Published by E. O. Kimberley of This City

Col. E. O. Kimberley has just published the war song of the Third Wisconsin regiment, "HAMILTON'S BADGER BOYS" first sung on Maryland Heights, Maryland, before Chas. S. Hamilton and staff, the day following the battle of Bull Run. The spirited title-cover was designed by the secretary of the Regiment.

mental Association—W. F. Goodhue. It represents the assault on the famous railway redoubt, at Atlanta, which stood on the left side of the track, where the Chattanooga railway enters the city. The words of "HAMILTON'S BADGER BOYS" were written in 1861 by E. E. Bryant, and the music, by E. O. Kimberley, both of the Third regiment. Col. Kimberley says: "The tune used in 1861, when Comrade Bryant wrote the words, long since passed from memory. The tune I now present is entirely new and original. I am confident it will meet the hearty approval of all."

A Dictionary Dilemma.

A good story is told with reference to the publication of a certain Biblical dictionary. The editor is said to have given the article on the deluge to what he considered a safe hand, but when the article was sent in it was found to contain views which would certainly have shocked orthodox readers. It had in it too much science and too little theology.

What could be done? The volume had to be published forthwith. In this dilemma he put in his dictionary, "Deluge—See Flood."

This, at any rate, postponed the difficulty, and the article on the flood was given out to a writer who, it was thought, could be trusted better.

But when the second article came in it was found to be worse than the first, and another postponement was necessary.

The new volume contained another reference, "Flood—See Noah," the bewildered editor trusting by the time Noah was reached he would succeed in finding a man who would be able to mingle science and orthodoxy in due degrees.

MISS RELLA HARBER COMING WEDNESDAY

TO ADDRESS A GOOD ROADS PRELIMINARY MEETING.

Mayor Richardson Received Word Today—Gathering at Council Chamber on That Evening at 8 O'clock—Effort Will be Made to Secure One of the Conventions.

Mayor V. P. Richardson received word today that Miss Rella Harber, secretary of the State and Inter-State Good Roads and Improvement association, would be in the city to address a good roads preliminary meeting Wednesday evening. The mayor has therefore called a meeting for 8 o'clock Wednesday evening in the council chamber. At this time the steps to be taken in securing a good roads convention for Janesville will be outlined.

Wherever they have been held the good roads conventions have been immensely important. They have drawn from 5,000 to 6,000 people in cities of this size, and have given the people valuable ideas in using the road-building material that is close at hand.

Janesville street work alone will be benefitted enough to pay for a meeting, leaving the attendance from other points out of the question.

In case the convention is arranged General Roy Stope and Gen. Harrison, the two national authorities on road building will be sent out by the agricultural department; and a piece of road will be built with Rock county material.

It is important that there be full attendance Wednesday evening.

He Couldn't Understand It.

"Mother," said Mr. Spriggins, as he dropped into the rocking-chair and pulled a letter from his pocket, "I've got something I want to read you."

"Land sakes, Silas," the old lady exclaimed, "they ain't nothin' happened to John, are they?"

Mr. Spriggins wiped his spectacles and replied: "Well, I dunno as you could call it happenin' to 'im, but it's blame queer, that's all I got to say."

Then he slowly removed the letter from its envelope and carefully unfolded it, but his wife, who had become visibly impatient, took the sheet from his hands and cast a hasty glance over it, to make sure that John had not died.

"Well," she said, handing the letter back, "I don't see anything in there to make a fuss about."

"John says he's coming home next week, don't he?" the old man demanded, "and they ain't a word in his letter about him wantin' me to send money to pay his way back, and he don't say he's a-goin' to bring three or four of his college friends along down to spend their vacation here and eat $4 worth of grub a day, either?"

TYPES OF WOMEN YOU KNOW.

Charity Neil
Tells of the Great Adjuster and
The Gentle Hearted
Overlooker.

There is a type of woman in this world who prides herself upon being able, under all conditions and circumstances in life, to speak her mind freely.

She never goes "behind the bush" about anything, and if she has anything unpleasant to say about you, she does so "boldly and above-board," right to your face, not mentioning what else she may say behind your back also.

This type of individual lives in every community, and wherever you go in life as sure as you find a town pump and a postoffice you find this type of woman.

She seems to have the idea in her head that people have either buried their feelings so deep that nothing can ever affect them or that they lie so conscious on the surface that every "jab" and "dig" she delights in giving you does not even leave a dent, let alone a sore place.

She always takes a lively interest in your affairs and is not averse to telling you how you ought to manage them. She seems to be laboring under the delusion that nature has singled her out from all the world as the great adjuster of the human race, and she most assiduously fulfills her mission.

She is the sort of person who takes delight in telling you that you look ten years older than you did two years ago; that the mole on your face looks as hideous as ever; that you are not near so good looking as you used to be.

She has a penchant for gray hairs, and nothing gives her greater pleasure than to discover the first one that creeps its way through your nut brown tresses and pull it out for you.

She likes to remind you that you are growing old.

She is always saying, "I told you so," when anything goes wrong with you.

If she ever has the sacred privilege of entering your home, she at once discovers a need in an adjustment of the furniture and tells you so. She is always ready to tell you how she would have things if they were hers, and if you do not at once accede to her wishes she looks at you in utter amazement.

She is also interested in your anatomy and tells you that you are too thin, your bones stick out at haphazard angles. She notices if you are growing stout and tells you that you eat too much and that you sleep too late.

She began this outspoken habit when quite young, for she was led to believe that it was a very bright thing to do.

A few of her friends encouraged her in it because they said they admired outspoken people. So, with the mistaken idea of gaining friends, she has gone through life saying anything and everything that was in her mind upon all occasions, not caring whom she hit or how many she hurt. If she had only found it in her heart to express herself in a way which might have been helpful to any one, she might today be able to count her friends by the hundreds, instead of on the fingers of her one hand, not counting the thumb.

She is to society in general what a wasp is to the young boy in his first encounter with that vicious offender.

We feel very sorry for this type of woman when she sits alone sometimes and wonders why she has so few friends.

She might turn a little sweetness into her disposition, a little forbearance into her soul, and be another person in a short time, for down deep, in her heart, so deep that few people have ever discovered it, there is a kernel of genuine good in this woman's soul which, if she would only take the trouble to cultivate it, might save her from the fate of a friendless old woman and the reputation of a rattling magpie.

Then there is another type.

I know a dear old woman whom the world would justly call the "overlooker" if it only knew about her as a few of her friends do. She is the dearest, sweetest old lady in all the world, and in her tongue is verily "the law of kindness."

She is never known to say a harmful word of anybody, and her influence is such that you dare not do so yourself.

When you come to this old lady to relate some experience with the peridy of your race and tell her how shamefully you have been abused and your feelings hurt in the tenderest spot, she has a kind way of patting you on the shoulder and saying: "Now, just sit the matter down, dear, and you will find it is not half so bad as it seems. No one really means to be as mean as he really is. Don't give people the satisfaction of knowing they have hurt you; it might please them too much."

"If you have been ill treated, misunderstood and persecuted, just bring to bear upon it all the sweets of your nature, and the hurt feelings will take wings and fly away. It is by looking and seeing and realizing that things grow in such magnitude as to keep us hurt. What you need to do is to cultivate the habit of overlooking everything, and you will soon find that sensitive part of your nature healing up and growing so firm as to become immune against the little rebuffs you meet."

"I do not mean that one should become hardened, but just be sensible. I know what it means to be misunderstood, wounded and misjudged, but I've learned from experience that it doesn't pay to go through life wearing such a tender heart on your sleeve that every time anybody runs against it it is going to be hurt. Some one has beautifully said, 'There is an inner heart, a heart of hearts, wrought of a peace such as the world cannot give, that nothing can ever disturb. Cultivate that inner heart, let it be as a life within a life to you and your peace will flow as a river.'

"When I was quite young, my feelings were always getting hurt. Everything people said or did that looked or sounded a little away I thought was meant for me, and I grew to be the most sensitive creature alive."

"Life was miserable, unbearable. I was never happy, for my feelings were in a perpetual state of sensitiveness, the result of my own cultivation. Later I found that I could not go through life in that fashion and ever expect to be anything but a self-centered, unhappy pessimist."

"So I began to cultivate the opposite disposition and look for the good, the beautiful and true in everybody and everything with which I came in contact, and life has been brighter ever since."

"Now, when anything is said or done that I might take exception to, as so many old people do, do you suppose I stop to wonder whether it is meant for me or not? Oh, no! I just simply overlook it and go on my way rejoicing. The only way to be happy in life is to overlook everything which tends to make you unhappy or miserable, for goodness knows there is sorrow enough that really must be borne without dwelling upon the little vexations of everyday life, which in themselves amount to nothing after all."

"I used to be an overlooker, but now I am an overlooker. I just look right straight over the head of every little vexation right into the heart of some great blessing I know is left me, and that is the reason why I'm as happy now at 70 as though I was 17."

Then as you look at the peaceful old face beside you, lit up by a joy that comes from within, you go from her presence resolving to look upon life with a more optimistic view, after this and cultivate the spirit of an "overlooker."

FUN FOR THE CHILDREN

Explaining to Them a Wonderful Meat-Eating Plant.

"Now, children, I am going to show you a few curious experiments with the sundew, which I believe were first tried by a celebrated man named Francis Darwin. On this plate I have a pill box full of fine gravel, another filled with finely chopped raw meat, the third holds raw white of egg, and this one has in it small chips of wood. Now, Eva, take a very small pinch of sand, sprinkle a few grains on this leaf, and tell me what you see. Don't push, children. There is plenty of room for every one, as I said before. I will sprinkle some on the second plant, so you can divide up into two parties. Tommy, stand by me. I know there are seven, but I count as one, so now there are four to each pot. Well, what do you see?" A feeble chorus of: "Nothing, oh, nothing," did not impress Uncle Grim. "Look again. I take a different leaf on each plant and I drop a little white of egg from the blade of my knife. Now, watch." "Oh!" "Ah!" "It's shutting up!" "It's eating it!" were the cries, after a minute or so. "Quite right. You see, we cannot cheat this plant. It knows what suits it and what does not, and it is neither so ignorant nor foolish as to eat gravel which it could not possibly digest. Now I offer a third leaf on each plant a chip of wood, and you see they both again refuse to have anything to do with it; and, last of all, see how these same leaves which refused not a moment ago the chips of wood, now close tightly over the pieces of meat." ## Ex-Gov. Atkinson May Not Live.

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 7.—Former Gov. W. Y. Atkinson is seriously ill at his home in Newnan and it is believed his recovery is impossible. He has not been in good health for three years following an attack of appendicitis.

About one month ago my child, which is fifteen months old, had an attack of diarrhoea accompanied by vomiting. I gave it such remedies as are usually given in such cases, but as nothing gave relief, we sent for a physician and it was under his care for a week. At this time the child had been sick for about ten days and was having about twenty-five operations of the bowels every twelve hours, and we were convinced that unless it soon obtained relief it would not live. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was recommended, and I decided to try it. I soon noticed a change for the better; by its continued use a complete cure was brought about and it is now perfectly healthy.—C. L. Boggs, Stumptown, Gilmer Co., W. Va. ## To Rent Signs in Mexico.

Strangers sometimes mildly wonder what newspapers or sheets of blank paper are tied on the windows of balconies of certain houses for. A sheet of paper thus arranged is a sign, meaning that there are rooms to rent in the house on which it is displayed, and is just as significant in its import as three golden balls over a pawnbroker's shop are in other countries.

LATE NEWS BY TELEGRAPH.

MANY FACE DEATH ON LAKE.

Two Hundred Lives Imperiled on the City of Grand Rapids.

South Haven, Mich., Aug. 7.—The passenger steamer City of Grand Rapids, with 200 persons on board, narrowly escaped foundering in midlake Saturday night.

The steamer was bound for Milwaukee, and was thirty-five miles out in the lake when a large amount of water was discovered in the hold. The water was pouring in from many leaks, and, to render the situation more desperate, the engineer was unable to start the pumps.

When the water rose until it was within two inches of the fires the steamer was turned around and headed for South Haven.

The passengers were awakened and told to prepare themselves for what might happen, and a wild scramble for life-saving appliances ensued.

Just before the fires were put out by the incoming water the engineer succeeded in rigging up one of the pumps, which held the water in check until port was reached, at 6 o'clock Sunday morning.

Two inches more water would have shut off the supply of steam from the boilers, and the steamer probably would have sunk, with great loss of life.

FEVER EPIDEMIC NEARS END.

No Deaths or New Cases, and All Patients Doing Well.

Newport News, Va., Aug. 7.—If the yellow fever situation in the soldiers' home at Hampton continues to improve as it has done in the last four days, the epidemic will practically be ended next Sunday, and all the quarantines recently established will be raised. There were no new cases and no deaths Sunday, and all the patients in the hospitals are doing well.

No Suspected Cases Found.

Washington, Aug. 7.—Surgeon-General Wyman received a number of telegrams Sunday from the soldiers' home near Hampton, Va., and neighboring cities, all to the effect that no new cases of yellow fever had been discovered and no deaths had occurred within twenty-four hours from the fever. A telegram from Surgeon Pettus at Fort Monroe announced the departure of the troops and the good health of those who remained to guard the fort. A rigid inspection of Phoebus, Hampton, and Newport News, Old Point Comfort, and other towns has failed to reveal any suspected cases.

THE PRESIDENT WILL COME.

Has Promised to Attend Chicago Autumn Festival.

Hotel Champlain, Lake Champlain, N. Y., Aug. 7.—President McKinley has promised to attend the Chicago autumn festival to be held the week of Oct. 9. It was not President McKinley's original intention to do more than take part in the ceremonies of laying the corner-stone of the new Chicago federal building, but he has been persuaded to accept several invitations to banquets, and will certainly make one or two speeches.

Result Was Expected.

Madrid, Aug. 7.—The court martial which tried Gen. Toral and other officers for surrendering Santiago to the Americans has, by a majority of one, acquitted the defendants. This is the result looked for by military and naval officers. The public is disappointed that the evidence taken did not more fully expose the shortcomings of those charged with the conduct of the war. The court severely censures the highest official in Cuba and Spain, and especially holds the late government responsible for the lack of resources.

Strike at Cleveland About Over.

Cleveland, Ohio, Aug. 7.—It is the general opinion that the beginning of the end of the strike is already in sight. To all appearances the boycott against the cars of the Big Consolidated Street Railway company is on the wane and is hourly losing much of its original force. The strikers are becoming more discouraged every day. Many of them are seeking other positions. It is announced that all the military will be withdrawn perhaps before tonight.

Dreyfus Trial Begins.

Rennes, Aug. 7.—The Dreyfus trial has begun. Promptly at 7 o'clock the court usher, or bailiff, called the court and announced the trial was about to begin. Dreyfus, the prisoner, was safely taken to the courtroom, the passage from his prison being quickly effected shortly before 6 o'clock.

The scenes outside the Lycees were orderly, despite the large crowd. There were no demonstrations.

Miners to Ask an Advance.

Montgomery, W. Va., Aug. 7.—Sunday the United Mine Workers decided to call a mass-meeting for this place Sept. 8. At this meeting an advance of 15 cents in mining rate will be formally demanded. Prominent operators state that it will be impossible to grant this increase. There are from 12,000 to 15,000 United Mine Workers in the coal fields of southern West Virginia.

Strike on the New York Sun.

New York, Aug. 7.—New York Typographical Union No. 6 has devoted all of its fund, estimated at $40,000, to support the union composers who struck Saturday night in the Sun office. The printers walked out because they had learned that non-union printers were to be employed. The union men demanded a contract at once; it was refused, and the men went out.

Seventeen Killed in Wreck.

Paris, Aug. 7.—An express train crashed into a local train at Juvisy, twelve and one-half miles from here, Saturday evening, completely wrecking the latter. Seventeen persons were killed and seventy-five injured, several very severely. The disaster is attributed to a storm, which disarranged the semaphores.

Home Wants to See Dewey.

Rome, Aug. 7.—Rome will be intensely disappointed if Admiral Dewey concludes to leave Italy without visiting the capital. It is thought that he will touch Rome on his way west, and a warm welcome is assured.

To Erect a Chapel of Peace.

The Hague, Aug. 7.—The American delegates to the peace conference, which closed its session here a few days ago, have announced that it is the desire of the United States to erect a chapel of peace near the little English church here, with a memorial stone, to commemorate the conference in which the United States had so important a part. The church board has accepted the offer with the greatest gratitude.

Street Cars Are Taken Off.

Eau Claire, Wis., Aug. 7.—Sunday evening all the cars on the Chippewa Valley electric system were driven into the barns by crowds of strike sympathizers. Mayor Douglass said he had no sympathy with the company, though he would do what he could, but he could not put policemen on the cars because it would violate the anti-pass law. The company then decided to quit trying to operate.

To End Chicago Strike.

Chicago, Aug. 7.—Representatives of organizations involved in the strike of the brickmakers say the trouble will be settled before the end of this week without the necessity of calling a general strike.

Fire Wrecks Cement Plant.

Glens Falls, N. Y., Aug. 7.—Fire, entailing a loss of about $250,000, destroyed the works of the Glens Falls Portland Cement company Sunday afternoon.

VAN WYCK BOOM LAUNCHED.

Movement Declared to Be Assuming Serious Proportions.

Saratoga, N. Y., Aug. 7.—Van Wyck's boom is fully launched. It is declared to be an affair of serious proportions, and Van Wyck is wasting no opportunity to press it forward so that before the summer ends he may become a figure of great consequence upon the political horizon.

Van Wyck is opposed to the 16-to-1 ratio. He believes in bimetalism; he has pledged himself to see that the south gets more money, and, what is more important than this to New Yorkers, it is strongly intimated that he will ignore Tammany Hall if nominated.

Van Wyck's friends say he is the logical candidate. They declare that Bryan is dead in the south. Others say he is a pretty lively corpse.

Judge Van Wyck is losing no time with his boom. All his activity is directed toward placing his virtues before the people. Ex-Senator Gorman of Maryland will arrive here on Thursday. Gorman's present platform is "Beat Bryan or bust."

TO ISSUE GOLD CERTIFICATES.

Treasury Department Orders $10,000,000 Paper Currency.

Washington, Aug. 7.—The treasury department today made requisition on the bureau of engraving and printing for the printing of ten million dollars in gold certificates in denominations of $20 each. The treasurer now holds a large unissued supply of certificates of the larger denominations.

It is the evident intention of the treasury department to be in a position to issue gold certificates freely for gold coin, should the fall movement of currency lead to a demand at the treasury for gold certificates in exchange for gold coin. It is to be noted that while gold coins may be freely had in denominations of fives and tens the law restricts the issue of gold certificates to denominations of twenty dollars or multiples thereof. It is a debatable question therefore whether gold certificates will adequately meet the demand for money of small denominations.

Plain, Matter of Fact Business.

There has been no magic about our business during the past month. July is a dull month usually with most merchants. With us it turned out to be one of the best of the present year thus far. Why was it? Because we made it so. Tempting offers and dependable merchandise—goods that were all they were represented to be—and at easy buying prices.

In our crockery department

We are receiving new Dinnerware and Dinner Sets. They are pretty and worth giving special attention. Pretty table decorations are numerous, and each week finds some new addition to stock that varies the monotony and makes shopping a delight at our store. More of those Glass Tumblers and Jelly Glasses at 3 for 5c, are here.

Vase parlor lamps

A very fine assortment, with decorated globes and shades, at 85c, $1.00, $1.25, $1.50, $2.00. Any of them will add beauty to the parlor table.

Odd fancy china pieces

We are anxious to move this stock rapidly and are making prices on pretty pieces that should interest ladies. One can find most anything they wish in this stock.

From the fact that

Our shoe trade increases steadily

We believe that buyers appreciate the prices we are making on strongly made stylish footwear. Each month in this department finds a satisfactory advance in business. We knew it would take time to build up a trade, but it has come more rapidly than we looked for. The stock is so new and fresh and the sizes and styles so desirable that selling is made an easy matter. Complete lines of shoes for men, women and children are here and the margin of profit asked is small.

Woman's Crowning Virtue.

BEITON, Mo., July 27.

For years I suffered terrible pains every month and my doctor told me I could not be cured except by an operation. I felt I could not submit to that and was so despondent I had given up all hope of a cure. My husband insisted on my trying Wine of Cardui and at last thank God I did try it. Last month I did not have a pain, and did all my work, which I had not done in seven years.

MRS. MINNIE LITTLE.

Wine of Cardui

Modesty is the crowning virtue of American women. It is the trait that all mankind admires. A modest woman is the most pleasing of all created things. Because of this becoming virtue thousands of women prefer to suffer untold miseries rather than confide their troubles to a physician, and to even think of submitting to an examination is revolting. They can't get their own consent to an operation. Wine of Cardui permits sensitive women to retain their modesty. With it they can cure "female troubles" in the quiet of their own rooms. If special treatment is required they can write to the Advisory Department of the Chattanooga Medicine Co., and their letters will be promptly answered by women trained in the cure of womanly weaknesses and irregularities. There should be no hesitation. Delayed treatment means a chronic condition. The longer postponed the harder to cure.

FAMOUS INFANTRY REGIMENT

Long Record of the Fighting Fourth, Now in the Philippines.

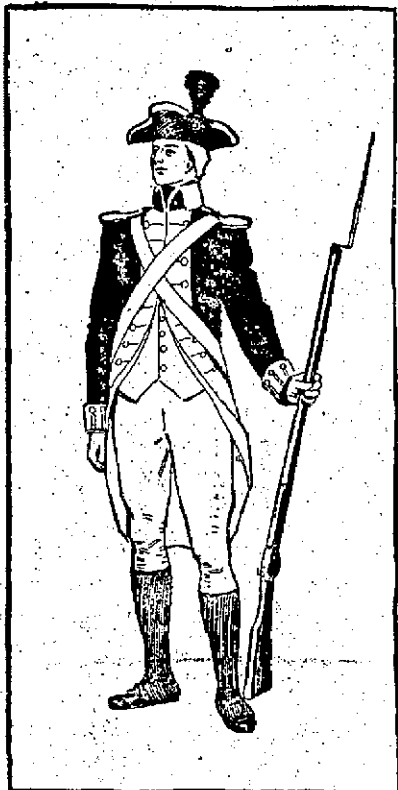

By Lieut. H. R. Gahan

The return of the volunteer troops leaves the bulk of the fighting in the Philippines to be done by the regulars. The flower of our military establishment has been sent there. Among other organizations now in the vicinity of Manila is the famous Fourth Infantry, which is one of the oldest regiments in service. In every war since the Revolution the Fourth has won honors.

Some of America's greatest soldiers have fought with the Fourth. On its roster of officers have appeared the names of two men who became presidents of the United States. One of these was Zachary Taylor; the other was Ulysses S. Grant. Taylor was lieutenant colonel of the Fourth, and Grant served as one of its captains early in his military career. Its roster also includes the well remembered names of Phil Sheridan, Buchanan, Augur, Alden, Bliss, Floyd Jones, Hunt, Haller, Alvord, Kautz, MacFieley, Crook, Hazen, D. A. Russell and S. N. Scott.

The organization of the Fourth United States Infantry dates back as far as Sept. 1, 1792. It was organized at Pittsburgh, with General Anthony Wayne as commander in chief. It was disbanded in June, 1802, but was reorganized in June, 1808, and from that time has never been out of commission.

In the spring of 1812 the Indians to the north were causing much trouble, and there were strong probabilities of a war with Great Britain, whose agents were identified with the Indian difficulties. General Hull, on account of his knowledge of the Indians and his former good conduct, had been given command of all the forces in the northwest, and the Fourth regiment was accordingly ordered to join other troops under his command.

Under Lieutenant Colonel Miller the Fourth completely routed the Indian forces, wounding and capturing the great chief Tecumseh. But a week later General Hull basely surrendered all his forces. For this act of cowardice he was sentenced to death by a court martial, but his sentence was commuted.

The Fourth Infantry, under the command of Major G. W. Allen, figured conspicuously all through the Mexican war, a notable capture being a camp where the headquarters of the Mexican general in chief were established. All his official correspondence was captured, together with a large amount of ammunition, 400 mules and every variety of army equipage.

The regiment returned to the United States in 1848, and was distributed at different posts on the lakes between Fort Mackinac and Plattsburg.

When the civil war came on, the Fourth Infantry was stationed on the Pacific slope. It came east and joined the Army of the Potomac. An eminent war historian, in commenting on the Fourth Infantry, says, "The history of the Army of the Potomac is but a history of the Fourth Infantry, for that regiment was in all the great battles of the war." At Fredericksburg, Antietam, the Wilderness and Gettysburg the Fourth Infantry rendered valiant service, and the records of the war are full of the achievements of that regiment.

After the war the regiment went west and remained on the frontier, taking a hand in the various Indian outbreaks that occurred from time to time from 1867 to 1898.

When the war with Spain was declared, the Fourth Infantry was stationed at Fort Sheridan, Ills. When the assault upon Santiago was planned the Fourth Infantry was one of the first regiments of regulars selected to go to the front. The list of casualties recorded in the battle of Santiago shows that the Fourth Infantry was in the thickest of the fight. Lieutenant Colonel August Bainbridge of New York, was in command, and his report shows that one officer and eight men were killed, and three officers and 35 men were wounded.

The Cruel Knife!

It is absolutely useless to expect a surgical operation to cure cancer, or any other blood disease. The cruelty of such treatment is illustrated in the alarming number of deaths which result from it. The disease is in the blood, and hence can not be cut out. Nine times out of ten the surgeon's knife only hastens death.

My son had a most malignant Cancer, for which the doctors said an operation was the only hope. The operation was a severe one, as it was necessary to cut down to the jaw bone and scrape it. Before a great while the Cancer returned, and began to grow rapidly. We gave him many remedies without relief, and finally, upon the advice of a friend, decided to try S. S. S. (Swift's Specific), and with the second bottle he began to improve. After twenty bottles had been taken, the Cancer disappeared entirely, and he was cured. The cure was a permanent one, for he is now seventeen years old, and has never had a sign of the dreadful disease to return.

J. N. MURDOCH,
270 Snodgrass St., Dallas, Texas.

Absolutely the only hope for Cancer is Swift's Specific.

S.S.S. For the Blood

as it is the only remedy which goes to the very bottom of the blood and forces out every trace of the disease. S. S. S. is guaranteed purely vegetable, and contains no potash, mercury, or other mineral.

Books on Cancer will be mailed free to any address by the Swift Specific Co., Atlanta, Ga.
